

LUXUS ONE GARNACHA BLANCA 2021/$15.99

DESCRIPTION

It has been more than 60 years since our family is part of this wonderful world of wine. The first steps were given by my parents in San Rafael, province of Mendoza in Argentina. In those lands so far away and yet so endearing to the Spanish emigrants, it was there where with great enthusiasm, tenacity and much effort they made their first wines.

Years later, with much-accumulated experience they decided to return to their origin in Spain following a new dream. From that time until today, Reserva de la Tierra has not left a single moment working, from tradition to innovation in each and every one of the Group's initiatives.

Today our company is admired and respected around the world for its constant adaptation to changes, its innovative vision and its respect for work in harmony with the environment. A special mention is to be made of our values regarding the people who are a key part of this great family. We especially value honesty and above all the entrepreneurship.

Finally, I want to express immense pride in the realization that with passion, effort and constant dedication we have been fulfilling all our expectations. Our vineyards, our wineries, our wines are nothing but dreams come true.

LUXUS ONE GARNACHA BLANCA 2021

Grenache Blanc (aka Garnacha Blanca) is a full-bodied white wine that originated in northern Spain. Since being planted in the United States, single-varietal Grenache Blanc wines continue to grow in popularity where it's loved for its intense flavors, higher alcohol content, and plush style (when aged in oak) similar to Chardonnay.

“Green richness” is the theme that carries through all Grenache Blanc wines. The aromas will burst with green fruit and citrus notes including Asian pear, green apple, unripe mango, lime zest, and white peach. Other flavors include subtle sweet floral notes of honeysuckle and fenugreek (or almost cumin seed) along with baked apple, brioche and lemon curd if the wine was aged in oak. On the palate it will be plump and rich with juicy pear flavors that lead into lean herbal notes of green almond or dried green herbs and salty minerals. Alcohol levels will range in the 13–15% range, giving the wine a spice-driven finish.

The aging potential of Garnacha Blanca is 1–5 years. Grenache Blanc is sensitive to oxidation so be sure to store it in a cool, dark place. When blended with other varieties, Grenache Blanc wines have the potential to age longer.

Tasting Notes

Nose:

A delicate white wine with a floral and fruity nose.

Palate:

Stone fruit and citrus notes on the palate. Rich texture and good balance.

Pairing:

High on the intensity spectrum, you’ll note that Grenache Blanc will pair with a wide variety of foods from fish dishes to rich meats like lamb. The secret to pairing with Grenache Blanc is to consider its spiced flavors of cumin and tropical “greenness” in your tool kit when pairing with food. This makes Grenache Blanc particularly well suited with richly spiced dishes, whether they be of Moroccan, Spanish, Indian or Asian origin. Just remember not to go too spicy with heat because alcohol makes capsicum burn!

Examples: Chicken Satay, Chinese 5-Spice Sea Bass, Tempura Shrimp, Broiled Lobster, Moroccan Tagine, Lebanese 7 Spice Lamb, Garlic Chicken, Braised Short rib, and Roasted Pork Shoulder.

Fun Facts

Notes of oregano and lavender join aromas of grapefruit and lemon. This wine is soft on the palate, with flavors of lemon-lime, passion fruit, tangerine and almond blossom. There is a bright lift on the refreshing finish. –Wine Enthusiast 90 Points

Terra Alta D.O., Catalunya, Spain

